

How does Uptime Infrastructure Monitor determine routing?

When a monitoring station has multiple NICs that are connected to different VLANs or subnets, Uptime Infrastructure Monitor will use the operating system's routing table to determine where specific requests should be sent.