Are Service Monitor passwords encrypted?

Service Monitors that require a password (e.g. Oracle, MySQL) have their passwords encrypted in the database. The password encoding is performed by the Uptime Infrastructure Monitor core and is not seen by users.